

Shawn Marsden, Year 6 ... sea turtles

ART ADVENTURE

~~One ordinary day, school day~~
One day, Bob went to school. It was the day of the school trip to the Art Hall. He had to travel on a train. It was something he feared so to stop this he put a towel as a cape and a cloth as his hair. He then got on the train imagining it was a batmobile. He had arrived. Bob entered the Art Hall and saw a ^{glame} moose head with tiny brick eyebrows and pink heart-shaped glasses.

All of a sudden, a door slammed behind him. There was no exit. The lights kept flickering. He could see a silhouette coming closer and closer until the lights turned on. A sheep with cheerio cereal glasses, cups on its ears and a pig nose.

stood in front of him attempting but failing to be fearless. Bob jumped over the sheep and carried on looking around. Something struck his eye.

It was a picture of Peppa Pig lifting 600 kilogram weights, with a cow
mixed with a monkey face, dog ears and her arms
coming out of her legs.

Shaking with fear, he ~~to~~ turned back. He didn't like it.
He didn't like it at all.
The lights started flickering but instead of things coming towards him, they went back to their original places. The door clicked.

It had been opened. A shadow came in. It was Batman. He came up to Bob and said "Congratulations you have passed the test."

"What test?" Bob replied.
Batman sat down and said "It was a test to see if you could handle situations like this. Do you like to be my sidekick?"

He replied "Yes!" he replied excitedly. Batman lead Bob to the Batmobile. Finally, they ~~drove~~ drove back to Batman's lair as ~~fast~~ happy have ever been before.

THE END