

Friday 3rd July

After a long day at work, I became tired and my vision was blurry. I started to drift slowly to sleep. When I woke up, I wasn't in my bedroom anymore I was somewhere different. The room was dark and gloomy with cobwebs hanging in each corner. Then, I heard people talking outside.

I started to look around. In a corner, was a lamp that looked like it hadn't been used for ages. I switched it on and walked around trying to find out any clues. All I found was an old tin can that ~~looked~~ made a clanking sound when I picked it up. THUD!
"What was that sound?" I thought turning to what was supposedly the entrance. Thud, Thud, Thud! There was that sound again. I have got to get out of here!

Then I realised I was in a giant pyramid. There were walls covered in holes and cracks and it was pitch black. Then, I saw loads of doors all leading someplace to explore. The main room, was massive! In the corner of the room, was an ancient Egyptian tomb that looked like it hadn't been touched for ages. Then I heard another, Thud! The whole pyramid was shaking.

Once the shaking stopped, I went over to the ancient Egyptian tomb. Inside was an Egyptian mummy made from iron. I looked into my book and turned to page 116. There was a picture of the iron mummy standing before me. Next to the picture was instructions of how to open it. I read the instructions carefully, and stuck my knife into the iron mummy and worked through the passage.

When I turned the corner, what I saw was amazing! There was gold everywhere. The walls were gold, the floors were gold, everything was gold! In the middle of the room, were three Egyptian tombs and a chest. I ignored the tombs and went for the chest. Inside the chest was dozens of gold coins. I picked a few up and started at the entrance. Suddenly, the three tombs opened up and three mummies came walking out.

The thing I couldn't stop staring at was a baby mummy crawling around on the floor. It was so cute! Then, the baby jumped at me and stole some of the gold coins. I ran after him but he was too fast! Then crash, I had ran into the wall. He then got really angry and ran after me.

The baby looked happy now he had some of the coins. I picked him up, grabbed the coins, and sprinted to the exit.

I ran to the bridge but something was... off about it. First of all there was a mummy selling gold but she was floating in the air! I looked in my book, closed my eyes and took a step forward. Magically, the bridge just appeared out of nowhere. I ran across to the mummy selling gold, I took a handful and ran for my life hoping I wouldn't get caught!

The Mummy lunged forward and grabbed my leg. I shook him off and ran to the exit. But one, by one the gold started to slip out of my hands but I had to keep going! When I got to the exit, there was a train waiting for me. I hopped on and waved goodbye to the mummies.

On the train, there were lots of other people with handfuls of gold. I looked down but I only had one piece of gold. But it was worth it!

When the train stopped, I hopped off and ~~waited~~ ripped the foil off the Gold and ate the delicious chocolate inside. Then I headed home after a long day.
